

Fee Schedule

Photographs of objects in the collection are available to scholars, not-for-profit organizations, publishing companies and commercial entities. Photographs for reproduction are taken by the museum photographer and digital files remain the property of Seattle Art Museum.

In support of our mission, the Seattle Art Museum provides images free of charge for scholarly publication. Scholarly publications are defined as those that reproduce an image for an educational/cultural purpose and are directed to a limited educational/professional audience (up to 5000 copies, or 5 years e-pub or web). Fees may still apply if new photography or scan is required to be able to provide a publication-quality image. High image quality is very important and we continually adapt our files to the latest quality standards, so please always order the latest version and avoid reusing old files.
